

Innocence & Ignorance

This moment captures the innocence of childhood logic: their belief that their perception of the world is universal. It also demonstrates ignorance in the sense that they don't yet understand object permanence or how others perceive them.

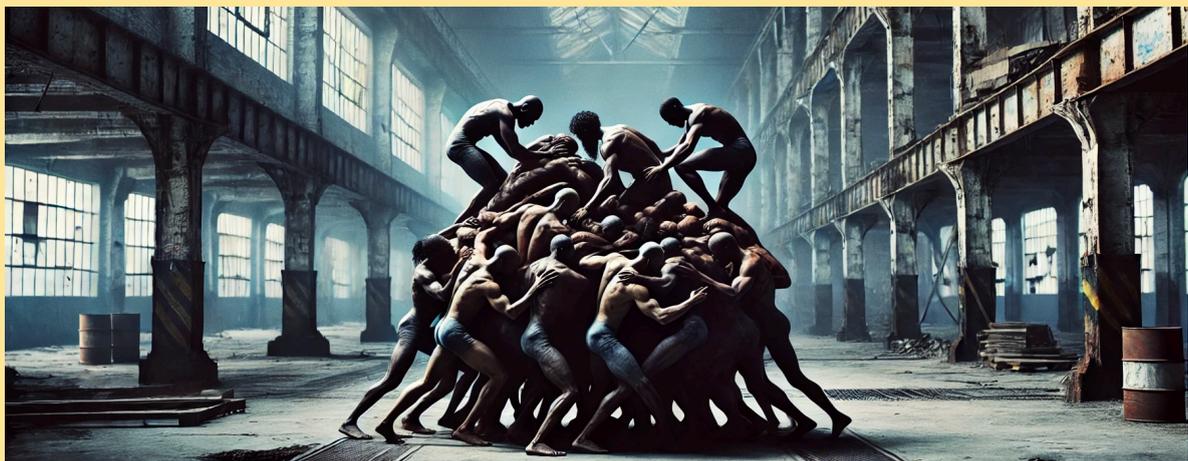

Child playing hide and seek.

Together Apart

People physically close yet mentally in separate worlds.

Primal Physicality

How movement, posture, and expression can evoke something deeply instinctual and raw.