

In investigating movement specifically as the medium for improv, there are three things to consider: The kinetic - kinesthetic event, the instrument (the particular dancer), and the form.